Welcome to 2014 Spring Semester

Second semester has just started and already the campus activities are in full swing. If you are new to the Northern Network News (NNN), I want to officially say welcome. The NNN is the best way to see what is happening at MSU-Northern. It arrives in your e-mail box every Friday morning and we trust you will find the stories informative and encouraging. If you have something you want posted in the NNN, please submit it to potterj@msun.edu by noon each Wednesday with "for NNN" in the subject line. We do reserve the right to edit anything that is submitted.

From the Chancellor

By Dr. James Limbaugh

This semester, and for the near future, our #1 priority will be the successful retention of our current students and the recruitment of new students. The funding formula implemented this year is based on a three-year average of FTE enrollments, and with performance-based funding coming for Montana institutions of higher education, the by-products of a healthy enrollment-graduation rates and first-year to second-year retention rates-will be significant factors in our budget allotments from the State. As a result, if you are asked to assist in an enrollment-related venture-making calls, visiting with potential students, providing your input on recruitment and retention ideas-please give freely of your time and your thoughts so that, together, we can ensure a healthy future for MSUN.

AVCA and NAIA Awards

Each year the American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) recognizes teams, players, and coaches for spectacular performance and integrity throughout the season in hopes of encouraging the development of the sport as a whole. Northern is proud to claim three of our players were named "First Team Northwest Region" by the AVCA this year. They were Kelsey Williams, a senior and outside hitter, Joni Nagy, a senior and setter, and Abby Nicholas, a senior and outside hitter. Abby Nicholas was also named the "Player of the Year" for our region.

On the national level, Abby Nicholas was named "2013 NAIA Second-Team All-American" and Joni Nagy and Kelsey Williams were named "2013 NAIA Honorable Mention All-American." Northern has not had an All-American volleyball player since 1992. Congratulations ladies, you make Northern proud!

While the previously mentioned achievements are very noteworthy, Northern is especially excited to announce that our Skylights Volleyball Coach Bill Huebsch received the Coach of the Year award for the Northwest Region. There are only eight regional coaches recognized with this award each year, and Huebsch was selected from a large number of coaches throughout Montana, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, North Dakota, South Dakota and Utah. Huebsch is the first Northern Volleyball Coach to receive this award. Congratulations Coach Huebsch, you make Northern proud!

For more information on the AVCA and these awards, visit: www.avca.org

2013 MSUN Cowboy Christmas

The MSU-Northern Rodeo Booster Club and team held their annual Cowboy Christmas Dinner/Auction last month. The event continues to be the rodeo team's primary fundraiser of the year, and all benefits are used toward financing MSU-N rodeo team travel expenses, rent for the practice facility, practice stock, and scholarships. The all-you-can-eat prime rib dinner, live auction, silent auction, poker table, raffle, and dance attracted 320 people this year. The attendees were able to bid on 42 live auction items, 35 silent auction choices, and 35 raffle items. The funds accumulated throughout the night totaled to about $35,000, which is about $2,000 more than what the fundraiser secured last year. The item that brought in the most money was a certificate for 8 hours of backhoe service provided by Lakeside Excavation which auctioned off for $3,000. Overall the Cowboy Christmas was a great success. The Booster Club and team were glad to see so much local support from Havre and the surrounding areas.

Rugg Named New Provost

Dr. William Rugg will be the new Provost and Vice Chancellor of Academic Affairs for MSU-Northern. His official start date is February 17, 2014.

"Dr. Rugg has outstanding credentials and will provide the visionary leadership necessary to work with our faculty in assuring excellence in all our academic programs," explained Chancellor Dr. James Limbaugh. "His experience with accreditation, on-line learning, and satellite campuses makes him the perfect fit for MSU-Northern."

Dr. William Rugg has most recently served as the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs at Northeastern State University in Tahlequah, Oklahoma, where he also held the academic rank of professor. He has more than 35 years of experience in higher education, including more than 25 years in administration. He has served as a provost, chief academic officer, college dean, associate dean, school director, assistant director (chair), and faculty member in a variety of academic settings. At Northeastern State University he supervises three campuses with nearly 9,000 students, over 400 faculty, and 16 direct reports.

Dr. Rugg has a Ph.D. degree in Higher Education Administration and Student Services from The University of Mississippi, M.S. degree in Speech Communication and Broadcasting from Utah State University, and a B.A. degree in English and Theatre from Barrington College. He has experience in personnel management of both large and small groups, grant writing, and administering academic and corporate budgets. He has experience in student services, faculty evaluation, promotion and tenure procedures, training and development of academic administrators, recruitment, hiring and retention of faculty and academic administrators, and employee relations, including resolution of employee problems, discipline, and discharge. Dr. Rugg has also worked with university accreditation teams and articulation teams for course transfer agreements between colleges and universities.

The 12 person Provost Search Committee reviewed 50 applications and conducted telephone interviews with 15 of the candidates before five finalists were invited to campus to interview. The Provost is the second in command under the Chancellor and is in charge of all academic, accreditation, and faculty issues.

Updates on Campus

Several changes occurred on campus during the break. The first, and possibly the most noticeable, is the new wall that will house The Northern Montana Plains Indian Museum in the Vande Bogart Library. The wall was donated and built by Clausen & Sons General Contractors and Doll's Glass. The Physical Plant will begin removing the carpet in preparation for the cabinetry and flooring.

There was also a new wheel chair platform installed in the Armory Gymnasium which will make it much easier for people in wheel chairs to access the activities in the gym.

In Morgan Hall, new doors for the 4th and 7th floor exits are in the process of being installed.

Student Success Center Shares Excellent Results

Throughout the 2013 fall semester, 77 students signed in at the tutoring tables. About a third of those students (24) students signed in only one time, while the rest (53 students) came back for tutoring more than once. The minimum number of repeats was 2 and the maximum was 45.

The center's goal was to have 50% of the students return for services at the LSC, and 65.97% returned. Having exceeded expectations, the Student Success Center looks for to helping many more students in the coming semester.

Chancellor's Holiday Reception

Chancellor James Limbaugh and his wife Patricia held a holiday reception at their home on Sunday December 8, 2013. The Limbaughs offered food, fellowship, and fun with their grand array of refreshments, welcoming environment, and festive gingerbread house decorating. Campus family as well as community members came and enjoyed the evening in the Chancellor's home.

Belinda Potter Receives Master's Degree

Congratulations to Belinda Potter who received her Master's Degree in Library and Information Science from Valdosta State University in Valdosta, Georgia on December 7, 2013. Belinda has been the library's night supervisor for over eight years and is now Northern's Instruction/Reference Librarian. She is available to provide reference services to students, faculty and staff, guide users in using electronic resources, and provide information literacy classes. Stop by her office (VBL 208) for personal research assistance or to set up a class (she also has a candy dish to encourage visitors).

Fall Dean's List

The MSU-Northern 2013 fall semester Dean's List contains 305 students. To be included in the Dean's List, students must carry a minimum of 12 credits and earn a grade point average of 3.25 or better. Students that received a pass, incomplete or "F" during this semester are not included on the honor roll listing. The following list of students is organized alphabetically by hometown (please note that many students give a Havre address instead of a hometown address, and thus are listed in the Havre listing). The official Dean's List is available at: <http://www.msun.edu/deanse/honorroll/DeansListFall2013.pdf>

Forty-nine of Northern's student-athletes made the Dean's List. This number equates to 31% of our student-athletes. We are proud of this number, as it shows the great job our coaches do recruiting quality students while still securing solid athletes. It also shows the dedication our student-athletes have to being the best they can be in and out of the classroom.

Ball Committee Checks-Out Cowboy Boots at Norman's

This year if you buy some clothes from Norman's and tell them they are for the We Love Northern Ball, the store will donate 15% of your purchase toward the Ball and student scholarships. Way to go Norman's!

New Student Orientation

Twenty-five new students participated in the Spring Semester Orientation program. The attendees learned about financial aid, business services, the Northern network, and some practical study skills. The best part of the day was the "Great Northern Race" during which students went all over campus in search of clues and, simultaneously, a better understanding of the campus layout. Door prizes were awarded including a Blu-ray/DVD player that went to Adam Bjornestad. Congratulations Adam!

FROM THE CAREER CENTER:

It's Career Fair time again! The MSUN Spring Career Fair is set for Tuesday, February the 11th and will be held in the SUB Ballroom from 10 a.m.-1 p.m.

The Career Center is hard at work putting together another successful event. We had 26 employers on campus during the fall event and hope to have at least as many this go-around!

Please spread the word to students and employers in all academic areas, and encourage them to participate in the fair. There is no pre-registration for students, but it is very helpful if they already have a profile on CareerExpress. This makes for an easier check-in on the day of the event.

Employers will need to register no later than 5 p.m. on February 3. For those who wish to interview students on campus, the deadline to make any changes to the interview schedule will be January the 28th.

Please contact the Career Center for more information at 265-4198 or stop in 213 Cowan Hall to talk with Jennifer Henderson or Mary Heller.

Career Quote for January: "If you are going to achieve excellence in big things, you develop the habit in little matters. Excellence is not an exception, it is a prevailing attitude." - Colin Powell

Professor Soiseth Presents Art Show at Carroll College

From January the 13th until February 28, 2014 Northern professor Joel Soiseth will be displaying his artwork at Carroll College. His show title is: Edgy.

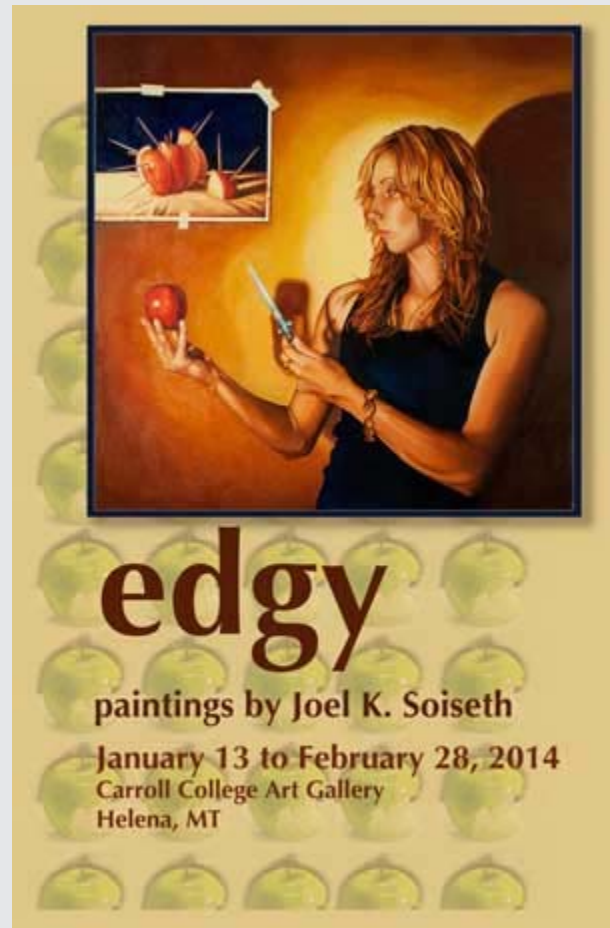

Soiseth spends as much time in the studio as his teaching schedule allows, and over the past few years he has devoted most of his efforts to oil painting, a medium he is quite fond of for its versatility and richness of color. He generally paints in a traditional manner with a concentration, in the past few years, on the human form. Soiseth says, "I am very grateful for the wonderful, patient and cooperative models I have had over the years. I do a great deal of my work in Pershing Hall, the building in which I teach and occasionally paint with my classes."

In regards to his work that will be presented at Carroll, Soiseth said, "I enjoy presenting combinations/scenarios of whimsy, mystery and implied narrative."

Soiseth's work has been inspired by many of the "greats" from the past. Some of his artwork has been directly influenced by historical works. He was especially inspired and fascinated by Jan Van Eyck, the early "surrealist" Hieronymus Bosch, the later Surrealist movement and the "dark manner" of artists like Leonardo Da Vinci and Caravaggio.

Soiseth commented, "Some 10-12 years ago I began incorporating the human figure into my paintings and was impressed by a style of painting the Dutch artists of the 1600's created known as 'Tronies.' These works were not portraits in a traditional sense, but fanciful depictions of men and women dressed in costume, holding props or making unusual facial expressions."

Of his current show Soiseth says, "I'm not overly concerned with hidden symbolism in my work, although some things will certainly have symbolic overtones. I do strive to depict things that have an aspect of conventional beauty, but also have an aura of strangeness, mystery and a slight evocation of unease... edginess."

From Your Learning Success Center

By Ligia Arango

Welcome to the first week of the rest of your semester. Starting this week you are able to start fresh and make a commitment to succeeding in your classes. A good place to begin is to attend class. Time is a non-renewable or recyclable resource. Once you have missed a class, it cannot be made up. Before coming to class, do all the reading and homework required to be prepared for learning. Above all, remember: you are responsible for your own success. If you receive a poor grade, don't make excuses. Just figure out how you can do better next time. Come see us at the Learning Success Center and we can help you figure it out.

Happy New Year!

Outlook 2010/2013

How to Add an Extra Time Zone to your Calendar

For most people, Outlook is one of those apps you keep open all day at work. And if you work with people in other time zones, being able to just look at your calendar and see different time zones can be very helpful when attending or scheduling meetings.

This feature was available in Outlook 2007, however the interface changed with Outlook 2010/2013 so here's how to add a time zone to your Outlook 2013 calendar:

1. Open Outlook and click File, then Options.
2. Click Calendar on the left.
3. Scroll down to the Time Zones section. Before adding a new zone, I would recommend first naming your own Time Zone. So in the Label: box, enter a name for your zone such as HVR for Havre. I would also recommend keeping labels short to keep the column widths as narrow as possible.
4. Now put a check in the Show a second time zone box, give it a Label, then choose the additional time zone from the drop-down menu.
5. Click OK to save the new configuration

Now when you look at your Calendar instead of just a single column with times on the left you will see two columns: your time zone will be on the right, closest the calendar, and the second time zone will appear to the left.

A Pinch of Salt

By Kimmi Boyce

Quirky Resolutions

I love New Year's resolutions. A few years ago my resolution was to forego eating chocolate for the entire year. This seemed like a truly insurmountable task for such a chocolate-lover as I, but surprisingly, my experiment became easier as the year wore on. Last year in "A Pinch of Salt" I expounded on the top ten New Year's resolutions and imparted tips I'd found on how to keep the resolutions throughout the year. Some of those year-long oaths included losing weight, saving money, and being happier. This year I'd like to dare you to outdo last year's resolutions by taking on a quirky and maybe unconventional pledge for 2014.

Get creative. Think of something that's specific to you. For me, relinquishing my chocolate indulgences was crazy hard, but maybe you're not a chocoholic. Maybe you should resolve to cut out fast-food restaurant chow. Be daring. Make a lofty goal, and meet it! Go without soda pop. Add WAY more greens to your diet.

Leaving the food realm, think about the long-lasting effects some goals could have. Take up an instrument, or relearn one you've neglected for years. Decide to memorize more jokes or quotes to enliven conversation in the coming year. Plan to read and watch the movie versions of ten literature classics or a few popular teen phenomenon series (like Harry Potter, Twilight, The Hunger Games, or Divergent series). Resolve to fulfill three or four of your bucket-list items. Whatever you decide to do, do it with discipline and unending tenacity.

I know a year-long plan can seem daunting, but do not let the longevity scare you away. If you're scared of failing, find an accountability partner. This person can not only encourage you, but also give you the honest truth when you need it most.
Happy New Year!
