Northern Network News

The Official Newsletter of MSU-Northern

September 1, 2017

Welcome to the Northern Network News

Welcome to the Northern Network News (NNN). The Northern Network News is MSU-Northern's weekly newsletter designed to keep you informed about all the wonderful things happening on our campus. Here are some of the exciting things planned for this year:

This year we will continue to make and feature programs and highlight videos. We also plan to keep you updated on the progress of the new Auto/Diesel Technology Center and the transformation of the east end of campus.

The NNN comes out every Friday during the school year (with the exception of vacations and holidays.) If you want something included in the NNN, please submit it to potterj@msun.edu by Wednesday at noon, and make sure you indicate in the subject line "For NNN." If you submit anything later than Wednesday at noon, there is no guarantee your piece will make it into that specific week's NNN edition. It is my pleasure to keep you updated on the goings-on of our great university!

Director of University Relations

Wärtsilä Donates Engine for MSU-Northern's New Diesel Technology Center

Montana State University-Northern was pleased to accept the generous donation of a big bore diesel engine from Wärtsilä North America. The engine and related tools are valued at $1.1 million dollars, and will be used in Northern's "Big Bore Lab," which will be housed in the new Diesel Technology Center.

The engine came from the Wärtsilä training center in Fort Lauderdale, Florida. The 12-cylinder 3000 horsepower engine is primarily used for stand-by/emergency power, generator sets, and some smaller marine vessels.

This engine represents a smaller scale of their larger engines used in freighters and cruise ships. With the basic components being the same in all Wärtsilä engines, this makes this engine an ideal trainer for MSU-Northern's diesel technology students.

Teaching Garden Continues to Grow

While enjoying the Havre summer, faculty botanist, Dr. Terri Hildebrand, was hard at work improving her teaching garden, which she began in the winter of 2014 and spring of 2015. Dr. Hildebrand uses the garden in her botany (plant science), biology, and ecology courses. Students observe living specimens of various morphological forms, growth habits, and sun regimes. Other courses are encouraged to use the garden as well, for example, art students may produce detailed drawings of the plants.

The Chancellor presented the Annual Report from last year, gave the campus an update on the new building, and presented an overview of the new strategic plan. The winners of the various door prizes were:

Lanny Wilke - Northern Brew Gift Certificate

MSU-Northern Views the Eclipse

Last week, several MSU-Northern staff and faculty took a few minutes out of their busy orientation schedule to view the Solar Eclipse. The Eclipse in Havre was only at about 80% but it was interesting how much the temperature dropped during those moments.

Angie Keilhauser Delights Audience

Angie Keilhauser gave an outstanding concert in the SUB Wednesday night. She has been a musician on Carnival Cruise Lines, and toured for two years before she caught the eye of NBC's The Voice and was invited to audition. Angie is currently on her fourth year of touring, averaging 17 shows a month all over the country, and recently released a new song with Jordan Fisher (of the Moana soundtrack) for Walt Disney World.

Chi Alpha Starts Waffle Wednesday

Chi Alpha hosted their first Waffle Wednesday of the year in MacKenzie Hall Wednesday night. The event is always a hit with free waffles (of varying flavors), toppings (a wide and delicious variety), and beverages (hot and cold).

Department of Labor Report Gives Northern High Marks

Members of the Montana Department of Labor and Industry (MTDLI) were on campus last week to present a supplement to their statewide college report, entitled "Meeting State Worker Demand: A Report on Labor Market Outcomes for Montana Colleges." This supplemental report focuses on the workforce outcomes of MSU-Northern graduates, and quantifies MSU-Northern's contribution to statewide workforce supply. Click Here to download your own copy of this report

Some of the highlights from that report are:

- 80% of MSU-Northern graduates work in Montana a year after graduation, and 85% worked in Montana within five years of graduation
- MSU-Northern graduates are 13% more likely to work in Montana than the average four-year Montana college graduate a year after graduation
- About 60% of graduates working in Montana were employed in the North Central region after graduation
- The education industry employs the most MSU-Northern graduates, followed closely behind by healthcare. One-third of graduates working in Montana are employed in education five years after graduation
- MSU-Northern graduates have better workforce outcomes than graduates from other four-year colleges in the state
- MSU-Northern graduates made $31,200 in median wages a year after graduation, which is 50% more ($11,000) than the median across all four-year colleges in the state
- Median wages for MSU-Northern graduates equaled the median wage in Central Montana within two years after graduation
- MSU-Northern graduates who worked in Montana every quarter for five years after graduation made $46,400 in their fifth year after graduation. These consistent wage earners made more than the median wage in central Montana within a year of graduation
- MSU-Northern graduates with prior work experience made more than graduates who did not have work experience
- The wage premium for work experience begins at about $12,500 a year after graduation, but drops to about $8,700 five years after graduation as non-incumbent workers gain work experience as well
- High-wages are driven by the concentration of graduates in high-wage programs - such as education, registered nursing, diesel technology, and engineering technologies. - Graduates from three of the top five most common programs of study at MSU-Northern have wage earnings above $30,000 a year after graduation, contributing to MSU-Northern's above average workforce outcomes when compared to other four-year colleges in Montana
- Registered nursing is the most popular program of study among MSU-Northern graduates
- Graduates from the registered nursing program make the most of any associate or bachelor's degree programs at MSU-Northern. Associate degree RNs make $44,000 a year after graduation, and Bachelor's trained RNs make $52,000. RN graduates are also very likely to work in Montana after graduation, with over 80% retention a year after graduation
- Diesel technology and engineering technology bachelor's degree earners, and master's graduates in education also have above average wages, which are all popular programs at MSU-Northern
- Education graduates are also the most likely to stay in Montana after graduation of any graduates from MSU-Northern
- MSU-Northern is an important contributor to graduate workforce supply in goods producing industries and education. - MSU-Northern produces 50% of all diesel technology graduates in the state

- About a quarter of all school counselors trained in Montana earned a master's degree from MSU-Northern

Just under 20% of all agriculture, engineering technologies, and automotive technology graduates in Montana came from MSU-Northern

Multicultural Center Artist of the Month - September

The Grand Entry
By Robert Gopher

Starting the school year 2017-2018, the September artist of the month is Robert Gopher (Chippewa Cree). He presents the piece, The Grand Entry (acrylic, 24" X 30"). This is a scene that singles out four dancers entering an outdoor powwow. Because of the yellowish and orange tones, it sure gives the impression that the entry is taking place in the evening, at the real time of a grand entry in a powwow.

Gopher said that he dedicated several months to this piece, "matching the regalia to the dancer's posture required some adjustments and patience. As I loosely applied the basic shapes with an ochre colored wash, I thought that this painting might get interesting. I had many ideas to draw from. The connection with nature was important to me."

He adds that color, composition, and lighting are the source of his work. Gopher says he continues to admire the post-impressionist era and its contribution to modern art, "Edvard Munch once said, [he was a Norwegian artist and printmaker] Anybody who perceives color can become a painter. It's simply a question of whether or not one has felt anything and whether one has the courage to recount the things one has felt."

Gopher holds a Bachelor's in Fine Arts from Eastern Montana College (now MSU Billings). He currently lives on the Rocky Boy's Indian Reservation and has been painting for over 30 years. While primarily a painter, Gopher has worked in mixed media as well and has exhibited nationally and internationally.

Windows Tip: Drag & Drop

By: Marianne Hoppe

Dragging and dropping files between File Explorer windows is the fastest way to copy a bunch of files from your local hard drive to a USB flash drive. But results can be confusing unless you understand how Windows handles drag-and-drop actions.

If the current location and the destination are on the same physical drive, dragging a file or folder moves it.

If the current location and the destination are on different physical drives, dragging a file or folder copies it.

One way to change this default behavior is to hold down Ctrl as you drag the objects you want to move or copy.

And if you want to create a shortcut in the destination folder, hold down Alt as you drag the file or folder.

Or, if you'd rather not memorize those shortcuts, here's a foolproof way to get the results you want: Use the right mouse button to drag objects between folders. When you drop them, Windows displays a menu that lets you choose whether you want to move, copy, or create a shortcut.

TidBit

By Bill Lanier

I always like to start the year off with "The Mindset List". In the fall of 1997, Ron Nief, Tom McBride, and Charles Westerberg of Beloit College created the first "The Mindset List" to give faculty a sense of reference for the incoming freshman class (traditional age students). Every August since then, they have created and distributed "The Mindset List." This list is interesting for all to read and enjoy. Just a warning, for those over the age of 30 chances are it will make you feel a lot older. Keep in mind that the year on the list is stated as the year the prospective students would graduate with a four-year degree. Thus the students entering this fall (2017) are addressed as the class of 2021. Here is a link to the year's list:
